DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

1. Claims 66-84, claim a "computer program embodying instructions executable by a computer". The claimed subject matter is nonstatutory functional descriptive material as stated in the MPEP 2106 Patentable Subject Matter. It is suggested that the applicant rewrite claims 66-84 in terms of "a computer readable medium, stored with, embodied with or encoded with a computer program or computer executable instructions".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claim 1 recites "send, to the CPU interface, a request to..., and send, to the CPU interface, the request to approve the association..." However, the specification as originally filed does not adequately describe the features of claim 1 as recited above. In Figure 2 and [0018]-[0022] of the original disclosure, it is shown that the sending of the request, to the CPU interface, occurs when no request to approve the association between the one of the network ports and the source MAC address has been sent to the CPU interface, or when an approval for an association between the source MAC address and a different one of the network ports has been received from the CPU interface based on the determination of step 204 in Figure 2 and not both as claimed. Thus, without further teachings, one skilled in the art does not know how to make and use the claimed invention without undue experimentation. Similar issues occur in claims 24, 47 and 66.

Claims 2-23, 48-65 and 67-84 are rejected because of their dependency on the rejected claim.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, the recitation "send, to the CPU interface, a request to..., and send, to the CPU interface, the request to approve the association..." is vague and indefinite because the controller as shown in Figure 2 sends only one request per received packet and not two requests as claimed. Therefore, it is not known the metes and the bounds of the claimed invention. Similar issues occur in claims 24, 47 and 66.

Claims 2-23, 48-65 and 67-84 are rejected because of their dependency on the rejected claim.

4. Regarding claim 24 line 2, the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "port" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967). Similar issues occur in the entire claims 24-46.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: shown in Figure 2 steps 204, 206 and 210-218 which are defined in [0018]-[0022] of the original disclosure of the instant application. These omitted steps are critical and essential of understanding the claimed invention because the received packets have and must go through these omitted steps mentioned above to determine the appropriate way to send the request to approve the association between the SA and the port identifier. Similar issues occur in claims 24, 47 and 66.

Conclusion

6. Disclaimer: Due to the ambiguity and the confusion of the claimed language, the examiner could not compare the claims to any prior art at this time.

Art Unit: 2419

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.

8. Examiner's Note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings of the art and are applied to specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant in preparing responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the Examiner. In the case of amending the claimed invention, Applicant is respectfully requested to indicate the portion(s) of the specification which dictate(s) the structure relied on for proper interpretation and also to verify and ascertain the metes and bounds of the claimed invention.

When responding to this office action, applicants are advised to clearly point out the patentable novelty which they think the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made.

Applicants must also show how the amendments avoid such references or objections. See 37C.F.R 1.111(c). In addition, applicants are advised to provide the examiner with the line numbers and pages numbers in the application and/or references cited to assist examiner in locating the appropriate paragraphs.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to HICHAM B. FOUAD whose telephone number
